TASTING NOTES

Skin-contact white blend featuring aromatic varieties such as Muscat, Gewürztraminer, Pinot Gris, and Riesling.

Alex Craighead Wines was started by Alex Craighead and Josefina Venturino. Alex was born in Australia, raised in New Zealand, and studied wine at Lincoln University before working across a wide range of wine regions around the world. Josefina, a landscape architect from Argentina, brings a deep sensitivity to land, form and place.

The first wines were released in Martinborough in 2014, after several years of experimentation with low-intervention and zero-sulphur winemaking. In 2016, Alex and Josefina moved to Nelson and took on an organic winery and vineyard in Upper Moutere. The project now centres on that home property.

The new wines are grown and made on our home property in Upper Moutere, with an emphasis on vineyard expression, texture, restraint and time. Where the project once moved widely — experimentation, zero-sulphur wines from 2013, early releases from Martinborough — it now narrows toward a single place.

The wines are aged slowly in a mix of amphora and oak for around twelve months before being racked and bottled. The aim is not to force a style, but to let the site, varieties and season speak with clarity.

Winery notes (2024 Vintage)
"Aromatic, lifted and gently structured. Skin contact, texture and perfume from the home vineyard."
