TASTING NOTES

Since building their own winery in 2013, the wines of Mount Brown have been going from strength to strength with much show success and great reviews across a number of varieties and, it would seem, an ever growing following out there in the marketplace. The 2025 Pinot Gris is just off-dry in style with plenty of fruit packed into it. Subtle honey notes and cleansing acidity give it great persistence. Delicious drinking and really sharply priced!

Winery notes (2025 Vintage)
"This delicious wine has upfront fruit with lovely pear and peach flavours. Some subtle quince and spice notes add to the complexity. Some residual sugar (7g) results in a medium-full palate with great texture."

5 Stars & 93/100 Sam Kim, Wine Orbit, November 2025 (2025 Vintage)
"This is immediately appealing on the nose with ripe apricot, Asian pear, rockmelon, and lemon peel aromas. The palate is equally attractive with juicy fruit intensity and bright acidity, making it refreshing and lingering. At its best: now to 2028."
