TASTING NOTES

144 Islands is dedicated to producing unique, singular wines that showcase the beauty of the Bay of Islands. Our wines not only tell a story of our site and the vintage of their conception but they also tell a story of a family's dedication to creating wines which are truly singular. Our ambition is to create wines which paint a tapestry encompassing all of the tastes and smells of our site, and can preserve that for many years to come.

92/100 David Walker Bell, WineFolio.co.nz (2022 Vintage)

"From the Bay of Islands in Northland. A lighter, translucent ruby colour in the glass. The scent starts savoury, with cashew nut, incense smoke, pepper, then damson plum, liquorice and redcurrant. Youthful and light-bodied. There is a bright crunch of cassis and raspberry – concentrated and jube-like. Tart acidity provides the core and line through the palate, with just a whisper of tannin in support. An earthy, smokiness with white pepper and root beer notes also appears towards the finish."
