TASTING NOTES

Ernesto Catena's the son of Nicolás Catena Zapata, the man that put Argentina on the fine-wine map. But he certainly doesn't live in his father's shadow. This organic Malbec is fermented oak barrels in the depths of the Mendoza forest. It's a roaring bouquet of black plum, red cherry and blackcurrant that's unleashed by soft tannins.

Winery notes (2022 Vintage)

"Pure fruit stripped from any intervention distant from nature. On the nose, flashes of strawberries and jam as sensory connectors to the best of this varietal. In the mouth, simple and easy going. Its skin is soft as its ending.

50% of the wine is aged in French and 50% American oak of 2nd and 3rd use for 8 months."

Reviews for the 2021 vintage below...

Tim Atkin MW (2021 Vintage)

"Alejandro Kuschnaroff uses purchased grapes from around a dozen growers to produce this low-intervention Mendoza Malbec. Very lightly wooded, it has a textured, juicy palate with refreshing acidity, supple tannins, raspberry and bramble fruit flavours."
