TASTING NOTES

Villa Argiano lay claim to being the oldest wine estate in Montalcino, located below Saint'Angelo in Colle, some 8km from the famous wine town. Built in 1581 the Villa passed through many sets of hands over the centuries and in 1992, the current owner Noemi Marone Cinzano purchased the property. In the past the renown consultant, Giacomo Tachis, the man behind Sassacaia, was involved in the project and the Bordeaux varieties were planted but today Bordeaux-trained winemaker Hans Vinding-Diers holds the reins.

Winery notes (2021 Vintage)

"Fruity notes with a touch of oak. Medium-bodied, savoury mouthfeel with characteristic red fruits and underbrush notes. Quite persistent with a nice freshness that marries well with medium tannin."

91/100 Wine Spectator, October 2023 (2021 Vintage)

"Taut and linear in profile, this red delivers black currant, black cherry, vanilla and peppery spices. Tightens up on the finish, where the chalky tannins linger. Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot and Sangiovese."

91/100 Zekun Shuai, JamesSuckling.com, September 2023 (2021 Vintage)

"Some wet herbs to the peppery berries and cherries. The juicy, medium-bodied palate is coated with fine, even tannins."

Good, medium-long finish to close with a peppery edge at the end."

91/100 Danielle Callegari, Wine Enthusiast, January 2024 (2021 Vintage)

"The nose is simultaneously earthy and sweet, with notes of cherries, chocolate, tree bark and underbrush. That cherry-chocolate sweetness takes centre stage on the palate, before tannins clear through them to resuscitate the earth tones."
