TASTING NOTES

There was a time when Italian whites were bland and lacking character. How times have changed. This blend of Chardonnay and Fiano from Puglia has richness and weight on the palate, enhanced by the process of appassimento - drying the grapes to add concentration of flavour. This dry wine tastes of almonds, pastry and pineapple – actually very delicious!

Winery notes (2020 Vintage)

"From the sun-kissed heel of Puglia Italy, this charming wine has aromas unfold in a rich bouquet of tropical fruits and subtle floral notes. The palate is full bodied with ripe pear and apricot flavours, complemented by a hint of honey. It has great acidity to fruit sweetness creating a good mouthfeel, with a lingering finish and touch of minerality.

Hand-harvested grapes, selectively dried using appassimento method, undergo controlled fermentation and meticulous aging on lees. This process yields a full-bodied wine, showcasing a harmonious balance of concentrated flavours."
