TASTING NOTES

Black Estate winemaker Nicholas Brown has been awarded 2022 NZ Winemaker of the Year by Gourmet Traveller Wine Magazine

The Damsteep vineyard is aptly named. Located about 10kms north of the Home Block on the eastern side of the main highway. Formerly known as the Spye vineyard, Black Estate purchased this in 2012 and have converted it to organics. The steep clay slopes are planted in several blocks. The Riesling is on the lower slopes. All naturally fermented with very low Sulphur addition and the wine is unfinned and unfiltered so it will appear slightly cloudy in the glass.

Winery notes (2024 Vintage)

"This is a beautifully balanced Riesling from a warm and long growing season. Grown on a rolling foot hill of clay soils at Damsteep vineyard. Handpicked over three weeks. Wild fermented in oval stainless steel tanks or large format neutral barrels. 15 months on fermentation lees, bottled unfinned and unfiltered.

Concentrated and balanced from a wonderful vintage in North Canterbury. Drink now and enjoy the odd bottle over the next 12 years."

Rated Outstanding & 95/100 Cameron Douglas MS, October 2025 (2024 Vintage)

"Fabulous bouquet of vine maturity, concentration and complexity. There's a natural finesse with a mineral and fruit synergy.

Flavours of yellow plums and makrut limes, lemon skin and apple flesh. The seam of minerality is unmistakable with a saline seashell suggestion. A backbone of acidity, a plush mouthfeel and lengthy finish. Totally delicious, new and real. Best drinking from 2025 through 2033+."
