TASTING NOTES

Rated 98/100 by Luca Maroni - Leading Italian Wine Critic

The Coppiere Primitivo is Back!

One of our biggest selling discoveries last year, it is now back in time for winter enjoyment.

Southern Italian Primitivo continues to go from strength to strength at Vino Fino and in terms of volume of sales and is starting to give Aussie Shiraz a run for its money. We can understand why, as it just offers such a fantastic drinking experience for lovers of smooth, rich reds that just seem to be so good for the soul, especially in these cooler winter months.

Fantastically presented in a beautiful, embossed bottle, the wine inside is suave and will have you swooning - liquid velvet some might say. Complete with a much deserved 98/100 rating from leading Italian wine critic Luca Maroni and all for a miserly $20, this is a wine that won you over last year, so it is great news to have it back in stock.

Smoooooth and well rounded tannins with delicious cherries and a hint of vanilla on the nose followed by dark fruits on the palate and ever so nicely balanced.
