TASTING NOTES

Winery notes (2023 Vintage)

"The De Boüard de Laforest family at Angéhus has been dedicated to the production of great wines for eight generations. Recently, under the impetus of Stéphanie de Boüard-Rivoal, the President of Angéhus, the estate created a new wine called Tempo d'Angéhus.

This new addition to the range of wines of Château Angéhus, made under the Bordeaux appellation, offers a more streamlined version of its illustrious elders -Angéhus, Carillon d'Angéhus and N°3 d'Angéhus, with which it shares the same depth and complexity while being at the same time more approachable young.

The aim of Tempo d'Angéhus is to demystify the approach to great wines, in offering a top quality wine, produced from the great Angéhus terroirs and made with the expertise of its teams, at the most affordable price levels. It has been created to provide a window that opens out onto the world of grands crus, which will allow demanding wine enthusiasts to enjoy a wine that is structured, complex and delicious to drink, without having to wait 15 or 20 years, as they often have to for our grands crus.

Clear and dark, the 2023 Tempo d'Angelus bursts with fresh red berry fruit aromas, tiny berries and cherries, enhanced by subtle notes of oak. On the palate, there is a sensation of verticality and enhanced by a fine acidity which give the wine great freshness and pure fruit character. The finish is lingering with subtle notes of roasted coffee beans and oak coming through."

flesh in the middle. Fine-grained, with medium body and a chewy but juicy finish. Needs two more years to allow the fruit tannins to round off. More bones than flesh this year. Drink after 2026."

Reviews for the 2022 vintage below...

93/100 Georgie Hindle, Decanter UK, December 2024 (2022 Vintage)

"An affordable, easy-drinking Bordeaux red that still showcases the skill of Angélus. Aromas of cherries, salty stones and purple flowers lead into a palate that is seductive yet fresh, with a touch of chewiness and flesh for texture. A minty undercurrent lifts the finish, keeping it in harmony. Pure, vibrant and effortlessly enjoyable – a brilliant buy that proves Bordeaux can balance ripeness with vibrancy, even in a hot year."

90/100 Jeb Dunnuck (2022 Vintage)

"The 2022 Château Angelus Tempo is juicy and lively, with a beautiful, crunchy style in its black cherries, spring flowers, and sappy, leafy tobacco-like nuances. It's beautifully balanced and has integrated acidity and fine tannins. The blend is 90% Merlot and 10% Cabernet Franc aged 18 months in barrel."
