TASTING NOTES

Château de Roquefort sits at 390 metres on the slopes of the Sainte-Baume massif, one of the highest vineyard sites in the Côtes de Provence. Northwest-facing slopes and the surrounding forest give it a distinct microclimate: warm days, cool nights, slow ripening and natural acidity kept intact.

The 25 hectares of clay-limestone soils carry the traditional Provençal varieties: Grenache, Syrah, Carignan, Cinsault, Clairette and Rolle. The winery is certified organic and increasingly biodynamic. New owners Cédric and Violaine Menet have kept the course set by Raimond de Villeneuve: minimal intervention, and rosés, reds and whites defined by freshness and energy rather than weight.

Brilliant pale pink with a clear tint in the glass. An energetic nose opens with bright red berries and hints of citrus blossom. The palate is juicy and fresh, delivering vibrant flavours of strawberry, raspberry, and white-fleshed stone fruits, framed by crisp acidity and a clean, lingering finish.
