TASTING NOTES

A lovely Chardonnay from a family-run boutique operation in the Maconnais village of Saint-Veran. Barraud are that makes high quality whites from the villages of the Macon, and this wine's gentle sappiness is balanced by clarity of citrus and mineral flavours with only half the juice matured in old wood. The Arpege is a great new addition and a delicious wine for the price.

89-91/100 Neal Martin, Burghound (2020 Vintage)

"Firm reduction blocks an evaluation of the nose. By contrast there is both good purity and energy to the delicious and caressing middle weight flavours that possess fine mid-palate density before concluding in a clean, dry and lemony finish. This should be approachable young yet repay a few years of cellaring too." Drink 2024+
