TASTING NOTES

Crafted by Laurent Charvin, one of the Rhône Valley’s most respected traditionalists, this Côtes du Rhône is the real deal. Grown just outside the famed Châteauneuf-du-Pape appellation, from vines averaging over 50 years old, it’s made with the same meticulous care and old-school winemaking that defines Charvin’s top-tier wines (minus the Châteauneuf price tag).

Whole-bunch fermented in concrete vats, this is a masterclass in restraint and balance: a seamless expression of fruit purity, lifted by notes of wild herbs, spice, and earthy complexity. No oak, no fuss, just the Rhône in its most honest and elegant form.

Robert Parker once called Charvin’s wines the “Richebourg of Châteauneuf-du-Pape.”

92/100 Kevin Davy, JamesSuckling.com (2024 Vintage)

"A gourmand, pure and perfectly crafted wine. Juicy and poised, with aromas of crushed raspberries, cherries and some baking spices. It's medium-bodied with fine tannins. Crunchy and attractive. Drink or hold."
