TASTING NOTES

Grown at high altitude in Mendoza's Uco Valley, this Argentine Pinot Noir delivers a lively and aromatic profile that's a must-try for the most distinguished Pinot lover. Wild fermentation and gentle maceration highlight juicy, sweet cherry notes and subtle earthy spice that glide across a finely textured palate, finishing clean and vibrant.

Ernesto Catena is a creative force in Argentine wine—a fourth-generation winemaker, artist, and biodynamic advocate who's reimagined what Mendoza can be. His wines come from high-altitude vineyards in Vista Flores, at the foothills of the Andes, and reflect a deep respect for land, people, and heritage. With a flair for experimentation and storytelling, Catena blends traditional farming with a free-spirited ethos to craft wines with soul.
