TASTING NOTES

This is the baby red from the Roux family in Burgundy, this is a good little regional wine perfect if you're looking to be introduced to French Pinot Noir. Light bodied but with a little weight, spice and fruit typical of Pinot Noir.

Established in the village of Saint-Aubin in the Côte d'Or, this family-owned estate has been cultivating vines since 1885. Spanning over 60 hectares across 13 villages in the Côte de Beaune, Côte de Nuits, and Côte Chalonnaise, the vineyard is dedicated to showcasing the region's rich heritage and diverse terroir.

With a strong commitment to respecting the soil and the environment, the estate emphasizes the purity of its fruit to reveal the unique character of each single vineyard. This meticulous approach ensures that their wines capture the essence of Burgundy, offering wine lovers a true expression of the region's exceptional terroir and craftsmanship.
