TASTING NOTES

Brewery notes

"Originally brewed in Canton, Massachusetts with East Coast brewing legends Trillium, Sunrise Valley features a hop-free boil, and a massive dry-hop of New Zealand Nelson Sauvignon and Rakau, courtesy of our pals over at Freestyle hops. Sunrise Valley also owes its name to the hop-growing region where Freestyle conjure up those wonderful hops - an idyllic location nestled away in the Upper Moutere.

When it was first brewed, this hop-free boil and heavy dry hop was considered a 'radical' technique for both Trillium and Garage Project, but over the years - through the rebrews, and the new drops - it's proven to be an integral element of Valley terroir. We hope you enjoy drinking it as much as we love making it."
