TASTING NOTES

Also from Piemonte and close to the famed Tanaro river which borders the zones of Barbaresco and Barolo, Arneis DOCG is grown in the subzone of Roero. The soils absorb good heat and yield a soft and generous white with wonderful floral notes of chamomile and white flowers with ripe pears, citrus, apricots and other stone fruit on the palate. From a stellar Barolo producer, thanks to changes in denominazione laws which allow production by DOCG producers outside the Roero district.

*Note, this wine is under screwcap, rather than cork as pictured.
