TASTING NOTES

Winery notes (2026 Vintage)
"Fiano grown biodynamically at Grosset Rockwood Vineyard (Watervale sub-region). Apiana: from vitis apiana, the Romans' 'vine of the bees'.

Fresh and subtle on the nose, with a gentle hint of tropical fruit and a lift of lychee. It's crunchy and vibrant, generous but enticing rather than shouting. The palate opens slowly and beautifully, almost intriguingly, as a chalky mineral backbone emerges and carries right through. The finish is long, saline and remarkably clean."

94/100 Ken Gargett, WinePilot.com, November 2026 (2026 Vintage)
"It may not be fair, but I have no doubt that wine critics hold wines from Jeffrey Grossett to a higher standard than they do with most other producers. The good news is he just never fails to deliver. This is an absolutely stunning example of what we can achieve in this country with this Italian grape, Fiano. From the Rockwood Vineyard in the Watervale sub-region of the Clare Valley, a vineyard grown biodynamically, the name comes from 'vitis apiana', which is apparently Roman for 'vine of the bees'. Pale lemon with a fleck of green, this is gorgeously flavoured and textured. There are notes of peaches, hazelnuts, beeswax and honeysuckle. The wine is immaculately balanced, offers excellent length and has fresh acidity providing energy. A really brilliant Fiano for enjoying over the next six to eight years."
