TASTING NOTES

Longrow Peated Single Malt Scotch Whisky 700ml is a bold, smoky expression from the renowned Springbank Distillery in Campbeltown, Scotland. First produced in 1973, Longrow was created to add a peaty, robust element to a blend but quickly became a sought-after whisky in its own right. Distilled twice and aged in Bourbon and Sherry casks, Longrow Peated delivers an experience that's rich, creamy, and complex. For those who enjoy a powerful peat character with layers of smoothness and subtle sweetness, this whisky is the perfect dram.

At 46% ABV, Longrow Peated showcases a creamy texture on the nose with vanilla custard and toasted marshmallows, followed by the unmistakable presence of peat that gradually develops over time. On the palate, the whisky is well-balanced, with rich, creamy flavors and a slight medicinal hint, supported by the gentle and continuous smoky sensation that defines Longrow. The finish is long, leaving a lingering, gentle smoke that entices you for another sip.
