TASTING NOTES

This is among the most accessibly priced red Burgundies in the market. Made by one of the best Négociants in the region, the Couvent des Jacobins is a delicious Burgundy - bright, poised and superbly well balanced. A unique opportunity for both Pinot and Burgundy lovers, this Jadot is a beautiful red for a cheap price.

In Burgundy's Côte d'Or, where the integrity of the producer is often more important than a renowned appellation or vineyard, Maison Louis Jadot is one of the most venerable, most trusted and revered wine houses. Jadot's winemaking team, now led by Technical Director Frédéric Barnier, has maintained a balance of tradition and technology in winemaking that allows Jadot's wines to express the subtle differences between terroirs that are the essence of fine Burgundy. Though officially retired in 2013, esteemed winemaker Jacques Lardière continues to work in an advisory role and on special projects. Founded in 1859, the house has grown through a long-term policy of acquisition or management of exceptional vineyard lands and owns 528 acres of vineyards, including nearly 280 acres of the Côte d'Or's most prestigious Premier and Grand Cru plots.
