TASTING NOTES

91/100 Tim Atkin MW, September 2024 (2023 Vintage)

"This is my kind of orange wine. Made from a judicious cuvée of Assyrtiko and Vidiano, it has the freshness of its 500-metre site in Heraklion, subtle tangerine, quince and lemon zest flavours, a hint of quinine bitterness and a tapering finish. Appealingly versatile with food."

90/100 Amy Wislocki, Decanter, September 2024 (2023 Vintage)

"This new listing is bang on trend, as both orange wine and Greek wine are enjoying a boom in popularity. A 50-50 blend of Assyrtiko and Vidiano from Crete, it's a gentle introduction to the category. Pale amber in colour and dry, with notes of bitter orange, mandarin and crystallised ginger, and some soft peachy fruit, there's gentle appeal here but it's all a little bit subdued and could do with some racier acidity. Still, if you've never tried orange wine, this could be a good one to start with, accompanied by some mezze dishes."
