TASTING NOTES

"Queen of vermouth. Known in the past as Bianchissimo - meaning 'whitest', lips have come to recognise the soft vanilla notes. With multiple awards since 1910, Pessione's fair lady has become a name held in the highest regard.

Wine and botanicals Vermouth cannot be one without the other. Together, they barrage the senses with taste, aroma, texture and colour. Our vermouths blend Trebbiano wine from Emilia Romagna, and Catarratto wine from Sicily, to which we apply our botanical mastery. Aromatic herbs, fragrant fruit, exotic woods and captivating spices combine in different amounts and formations to produce 'dry-blends'. The interaction between these herbs in the extraction process creates a unique flavour for each Martini expression."
