TASTING NOTES

This comes from a single 2.5 hectare site with a southwest orientation and on Kimmeridgian soils (as opposed to the higher Portlandian soils that much Petit is sourced from). This 25 year old vineyard is in Courgis, on the Chablis-St Bris road. You can expect a lot more flesh and stone fruit pulp than you would typically find in a Petit as well as a driven, stoney close.

This mineral-driven Chablis is everything you want out of Chardonnay from northern Burgundy: it's crisp, it's thirst- quenching, and it's absolutely delicious when paired with a variety of foods. Notes of underripe stone fruit, lemon zest, and salty chalk dominate the wine's acid-driven palate. This bottle seriously over-delivers for the price.

Allen Meadows, Burghound

"I find Moreau to be one of the most exciting young growers in Chablis and his wines are well worth the trouble to get to know if you haven't yet tried them."
