TASTING NOTES

The Nautilus Pinot Gris is serious and delicious, with an extra layer of sophistication and class than most NZ Pinot Gris.

Winery notes (2023 Vintage)

"This 2023 vintage Nautilus Pinot Gris is pale straw in colour, with vibrant aromas of fresh pears, quince paste, honeysuckle, lime zest and delicate hints of spice. The medium-bodied palate shows concentrated fruit flavours, bright acidity and a deliciously dry finish.

The fruit was hand harvested and chilled overnight before being gently pressed and fermented with an aromatic yeast strain in stainless steel tanks - the sole aim being to reflect and preserve the flavours and aromas grown in the vineyard. A small portion was fermented in old oak barrels to provide a textural element. After fermentation, the wine was kept in contact with the lees for four months. This classic technique enhances creaminess and integrates the flavours."

Reviews for previous vintages below...

5 Stars Michael Cooper (2021 Vintage)

"The highly refined 2021 vintage was mostly tank-fermented (5 per cent of the blend was fermented in old oak casks).

Fragrant and full-bodied, it is a basically dry style (4 grams/litre of residual sugar), with vigorous peach, pear, lychee and spice flavours, showing excellent delicacy and depth, a touch of complexity, fresh acidity and a lingering finish. Still youthful, it should be at its best 2023+."

Rated Excellent & 93/100 NZ Wine Rater, March 2021 (2020 Vintage)

"Very appealing, perfumed aromatics showing yellow plum skin, ripe pears, shortbread and warm baking spices. Rich, rounded, viscous, textural palate with Alsatian structure, soft acidity and a clean, dry finish."

4 Stars Bob Campbell MW, The Real Review, October 2020 (2020 Vintage)

"Nautilus' Pinot Gris 2020 is a light, fresh pinot gris with apple, stewed pear, spice, clove and a hint of fireworks or gunpowder. A hint of initial sweetness is balanced by gentle acidity and fine, peppery tannins."
