TASTING NOTES

Pegasus Bay wines are made to age, and their wines tend to be released later than most wineries, holding them back until they feel they are beginning to be ready to drink. However, these are wines that will improve further with cellaring and so each year a small, limited cellar release is made of wines that are 10 years old - ready to enjoy and savour.

Winery Notes (2015 Vintage)

"It is deep ruby in colour, with brownish flecks towards the edge. The nose is a feast of vibrant red fruit suggesting raspberry, plum and pomegranate, anchored with a savoury underlay of spicy pepper, cinnamon, mushroom and black olive tapenade. Extended bottle age has given this wine a wonderfully complex and captivating bouquet. The palate is powerfully expressive, with a rich and textured mouth-feel, replete with velvety tannins and a seam of refreshing acidity that delivers a long and satisfying close."

"Combining power with sophistication, the wine shows dark berry, charcuterie, toasted spice, porcini, fine lather, and hazelnut aromas on the nose. The opulent palate is both graceful and structured with gorgeous complexity, wonderfully framed by beautifully melded tannins, finishing impressively long and gratifying. At its best: now to 2032."

Rated Outstanding & 95/100 Cameron Douglas MS, March 2025 (2015 Vintage)

"Fantastic wine. From the complexity within the bouquet to the textures from fine tannins to acidity and barrel selection, this wine is delicious. There's still some youthful qualities within from the primary fruits of cherry and plum to boysenberry and barrel spices, savoury dried herbs and earthy tones, this wine charms with every nose. Dry, textured and lengthy on the palate with a synergy of complexity that can only come from bottle age. Some reductive moments add to this. An abundance of fine polished tannins and plenty of acid line for length and freshness this wine will continue to age. Best from day of purchase through 2038."

5 Stars & 19.5/20 (97) Candice Chow, Raymond Chan Reviews, February 2025 (2015 Vintage)

"Deep ruby-red with a slight garnet hue, lighter on the rim. The nose is voluminous, with concentrated aromas of black cherry, blackberry, olive, black tea, herbs, sweet spice, dried shiitake and dried floral. Medium-full bodied, aromas of black cherry, dried blackberry and tapenade intertwined with black tea, nutmeg, cinnamon, liquorice, dried hibiscus and dried shiitake. The wine is detailed in layers; the fruit possesses vitality and concentration, accompanied by spice with sharpness and edge. Silky tannins carry floral and black tea fragrances throughout and provide a fine, enduring structure. Impressive, refined and persistent. Match with beef wellington and herb-crusted lamb over the next 5+ years. Only produced in exceptional vintages, best barrels selection. Fruit from mainly ungrafted vines over 30 y.o., indigenous yeast fermented with approx. one-third whole clusters and as many whole berries as possible to 13.5% alc., the wine aged 18 months in 30% new French oak barriques."
