TASTING NOTES

A gorgeous Sangiovese from the Tuscan town of Montepulciano (not to be confused with wines from the Montepulciano grape used in Abruzzo). The previous vintage of this wine made it to Wine Spectator's Top 100 Wines of 2019 list (#54). Predominantly made from the local Sangiovese strain called Prugnolo Gentile, this superb red has a fleshiness and almost opulent expression that is simply delicious now, but has the structure to age gracefully.

Reviews for the 2020 vintage below...

92/100 James Suckling (2020 Vintage)

"Ripe, luminous red berries with fine spices and a hint of crushed-stone minerality. Medium to full body on the palate with fine herbs, citrus and berries all wrapped by fine, crumbled tannins."
