TASTING NOTES

Distillery notes

"Reid + Reid Reverend Dawson's Gin is named after one of New Zealand's leading prohibitionist who also happens to be the great, great grandfather of Stewart and Chris Reid. Reverend John Dawson was the General Secretary of the N.Z. Alliance from 1909 - 1925. During this period Dawson became widely known because of his assiduous parliamentary lobbying and campaigning in favour of total prohibition.

This gin is distilled using the 'one shot' method to produce a classic dry gin focusing on juniper and citrus flavours. Piney juniper with zesty citrus characters. Fresh and bright on the palate with a textural and aromatic finish."

drinksbiz Magazine, October / November 2023

"This gin is named after one of New Zealand's leading Prohibitionists, who also happens to be the great-great-grandfather of Reid + Reid's Stewart and Chris Reid. It has a juniper-forward aroma with underlying woody spice leading to a light, clean palate full of juniper, zesty citrus and a subtle peppery character. A classic dry style."
