TASTING NOTES

Rockburn Stolen Kiss is one of the most popular Rosés from Central Otago.

Winery notes (2025 Vintage)

"Rockburn's beloved Stolen Kiss Rosé 2025 is back, blushing and ready to steal hearts (and glasses) for its nineteenth dazzling season.

Born out of a cheeky moment in 2006 when winemaker Malcolm Rees-Francis "stole" some Pinot Noir grapes destined for Rockburn's Central Otago flagship Pinot Noir, this flirty pink creation quickly became one of New Zealand's most adored rosés. So adored, in fact, that a single years absence in 2007 sparked such longing, it's been a summer essential ever since.

Crafted from 100% Central Otago Pinot Noir, the 2025 vintage is bright, breezy, and utterly irresistible. Bursting with playful notes of candy-floss, strawberry, crème brûlée, and a cheeky hint of toffee apple, it's a juicy, joyful ode to sunshine, long lunches, and precious moments."

5 Stars & 95/100 Sam Kim, Wine Orbit, September 2025 (2025 Vintage)

"Finely expressed and enticing, the bouquet presents nuances of wild strawberry, watermelon, crisp apple, and lemon peel.

It's equally appealing in the mouth, delivering juicy fruit flavours with fine texture and bright acidity, finishing persistent and delectable. At its best: now to 2028."

Rated Excellent & 93/100 Cameron Douglas MS, September 2025 (2025 Vintage)

"Aromas and flavours of summer berries and mineral, lees and tropical fruits. Delicious with a satin-cream texture framed by a lively acid line and core of red berry fruits that reflect the bouquet and flow onto the palate seamlessly. Fine tannins, a fruity core, plenty of texture and roundness. Balanced, well made and ready to drink from day of purchase through January 2027."

4 Stars Yvonne Lorkin, October 2025 (2025 Vintage)

"In typical Stolen Kiss fashion, this new vintage (it's 19th!) bursts with bright cherry and sweet red berry bodaciousness. Raspberries and cream, whiffs of watermelon and buckets of red apple razziness make this a rich, rewarding, smashable style."

92/100 David Walker Bell, WineFolio.co.nz, September 2025 (2025 Vintage)

"A rosé made from Central Otago Pinot Noir. Quite a bright and darker tone of pink than I'm seeing whilst judging rosé lately – a deep copper orangey-pink colour here. A bountiful perfume, with red cherry, orange peel, pomegranete, blueberry, apricot, candied peel and apple pie. Off dry, with butterscotch sweet notes. A touch of tannin adds interest and texture and dries things a little in the back palate. Spice, chamomile and almond also pop up, with the finish reflecting the nose. A character-filled expression with charm and appeal."
