TASTING NOTES

Rockburn Stolen Kiss is one of the most popular Rosés from Central Otago.

Winery notes (2026 Vintage)

"Rockburn's beloved Stolen Kiss Rosé 2026 is back, blushing and ready to steal hearts (and glasses) for its twentieth dazzling season.

Born out of a cheeky moment in 2006 when winemaker Malcolm Rees-Francis "stole" some Pinot Noir grapes destined for Rockburn's Central Otago flagship Pinot Noir, this flirty pink creation quickly became one of New Zealand's most adored rosés. So adored, in fact, that a single years absence in 2007 sparked such longing, it's been a summer essential ever since.

Crafted from 100% Central Otago Pinot Noir, the 2026 vintage is bright, breezy, and utterly irresistible. Bursting with playful notes of candy-floss, strawberry, crème brûlée, and a cheeky hint of toffee apple, it's a juicy, joyful ode to sunshine, long lunches, and precious moments."

91/100 Cameron Douglas MS, October 2026 (2026 Vintage)

"The 20th release of this wine - a style that resonates with so many rosé fans - aromas and flavours of fresh red and white strawberry, red apple skin and a light stony mineral quality. A just dry wine with a generous creamy satin mouthfeel with fine fruit tannins framed by acidity and core youth freshness. A wine for Summer and the next two years ahead. Best from day of purchase through 2029."

88/100 David Walker Bell, WineFolio.co.nz, September 2026 (2026 Vintage)

"That particular pale salmon pink colour that it seems all rosé aspires to these days, is taken several shades darker by Rockburn, and 'shock-horror' there is also a wedge of flavour in the glass. Still identifiably rosé in colour, but with a shining coral colour, and made from Pinot Noir (this is Central Otago), it has an expected bouquet of cherry, strawberry, rose petal and dried herbs. But also takes its own turn with bubblegum, poached pear, red liquorice and candied peel. Off dry and with such juiciness that it feels almost medium in style, it is certainly voluptuous and characterful. Breezy acidity and a soft, creamy texture. This is bright, juicy and, the geeks are probably right – not too serious. I do think one thing though – it would be a great wine to serve with pavlova! And that's not an easy plate to match. Or enjoy as an aperitif."
