TASTING NOTES

Sons of Sugarland wines are produced by Young Gun, Reenen Borman of Boschkloof and Patasfontein wines. Reenen is one of South Africa's finest new-generation winemaker at present and his latest releases are just epic. Reenen's accomplished hand and ever-increasing skills are especially impressive considering his young age. Sons of Sugarland is known for its sought-after Syrah, with the Barbera being a new addition to the label.

One pick. Single vineyard wine. Goudini river pebbles and sandstone. 100% whole bunch fermented, with a total skin maceration time of 11 days. Pressed and aged in cement only. No fining. Perfumed fruits. Luscious tannin structure. Elegant and salivating.

Reviews for the 2024 vintage below...

91/100 Christian Eedes, Winemag.co.za (2024 Vintage)

"Grapes from a Breedekloof site. 100% whole-bunch fermentation before maturation in concrete. Red cherry plus hints of flowers and herbs on the nose while the palate is pure and juicy. Not particularly grippy but maybe something slightly earth to the finish. Charming and effortlessly drinkable."
