TASTING NOTES

Whole berry fermented, short maceration. From several vineyards in North Canterbury. Grown on clay limestone and gravels.

The Pinot Noir grapes come from organically-grown vineyards around North Canterbury. They are destemmed, fermented with native yeasts (with just one gentle punchdown) and macerated on skins for six weeks. The wine is matured in Tinajas (lined Spanish clay amphora) and bottled unfined, unfiltered with only minimal sulphur.

Theo Coles works as a consultant winemaker to a number of wineries and projects up and down the country but The Hermit Ram is his baby. With The Hermit Ram Theo has complete control and total freedom to dictate the wines' style and direction and it seems he is very interested in creating serious, structured wines with plenty of interest about them.
