TASTING NOTES

Whitley Neill is a London Dry Gin made with African botanicals including extracts from the Baobab Tree (known as the Tree of Life) and Physalis fruit. It's made in a one-hundred-year-old copper pot still!

Distillery notes

"An adventure in taste, Whitley Neill is slightly softer than more traditional gins and very smooth with rich juniper and citrus, pot pourri and exotic spices. The finish is a long one with a subtle fade of herbs, cocoa and candied lemon peels, while the nose is both citrusy sweet and peppery, with a distinctive floral aroma."

drinksbiz Magazine, November 2018

"This English brand inspired by Africa was created by Johnny Neill, an eighth generation Neill family member and whose family had a tradition of gin distilling that dated back to 1762. The symbol on the label is Africa's distinctive baobab tree.

A smooth, citrusy gin with a distinctly floral aroma. Although made in England, Whitley Neill draws inspiration from Africa, with its signature botanical the baobab fruit, which has a grapefruit like taste. Aromatic Cape gooseberries give the gin its golden colour and citrus flavour. A soft, smooth gin with notes of exotic spice, herbs and citrus."
